Responsible Beverage Service Training (RBST)

Despite the progress Minnesotans have made in recent years, impaired driving and irresponsible alcohol service continue to be all too common. Responsible Beverage Service Training is a vital program aimed at promoting responsible alcohol service and reducing alcohol-related harm within local communities.

Purpose: RBST focuses on educating on/off-premises servers of alcoholic beverages and their managers about the risks associated with serving alcohol. It specifically addresses three critical issues:

- Serving Alcohol to Minors: Ensuring that alcohol is not served to underage individuals.
- Over-Serving Patrons: Preventing excessive alcohol consumption by patrons.
- Intoxicated individuals: Recognizing impairment and when/how to cut someone off.

What's covered:

- Laws and ordinances regarding the sale of alcohol.
- The effect of alcohol on the human body.
- Recognition of the signs of impairment.
- Intervention strategies to prevent impaired customers from consuming further alcohol.
- The licensee's policies and guidelines, and the employee's role in observing these policies.
- Liability involved with serving alcohol.
- Verification of age, forms of identification, and forms of false or misleading age identification.
- How the legalization of cannabis affects the alcohol service industry.

How can you help?
 By signing up. We provide free RBST training classes which are offered in-person and online. All training materials are included at no cost. These classes are crucial in helping to reduce the societal impact of excessive alcohol consumption and impairment.

Why is this important?
 To...

- Protect Yourself: Ensures a safer environment for patrons and staff.
- Protect Your Business: Helps prevent issues of liability.
- Protect Your Customer: Helps prevent alcohol-related incidents and underage drinking.

Our Mission
 To train and educate the Licensee, Seller and Server on how to engage in responsible alcohol service.
 To be the first line of defense against over-service and underage consumption.
 To create safer establishments and communities where alcohol is served and sold.

RESPONSIBLE BEVERAGE SERVICE TRAINING

Despite the progress Minnesotans have made in recent years, impaired driving and irresponsible alcohol service continue to be all too common.

How can you help?

We are offering free Alcohol Awareness Regional Trainer (AART) certification to members of law enforcement, public health organizations, and certain community coalitions.

These classes are crucial in helping to reduce the societal impact of excessive alcohol consumption and impairment.

Why is this important?

Your contribution as a certified trainer can have a major impact on the economic and human toll this nationwide epidemic continues to have in our state.

As an AART, you will be certified to provide Responsible Beverage Service Training (RBST) classes in your communities, educating liquor licensees, sellers, servers and managers on how to ensure their customers are consuming alcohol safely.

Interested? Here's what to do next:

This training is free. Just contact trainer Clevin Duncan directly. With your commitment to conducting two classes per year (alone or with another trainer), you'll receive free training covering:

- Laws and ordinances regarding the sale of alcohol.
- The effect of alcohol on humans.
- Recognition of the signs of impairment.
- Intervention strategies to prevent impaired customers from consuming further alcohol.
- The licensee's policies and guidelines, and the employee's role in observing these policies.
- Liability of the person serving alcohol.
- Verification of age, forms of identification, and forms of fake or misleading age identification.
- How the legalization of cannabis affects the alcohol service industry.
